

COSMETIC POWDER TOWER

Appealing to the busy woman the new stacking powder tower from Cosmopak gives fresh meaning to portable makeup. Based on a threaded stacking system on top of a powder jar, this innovative item is unique in that it includes a combination of loose powder with pressed powder palettes. The Powder tower can keep as many layers of products as wanted, and each new section simply screws into place on top of the other. The item shown here has a powder puff, a single pan face powder and two twin godets for eye shadow and lipstick and space for applicators and a mirror on top.

.... All your make up bag favorites in one portable container.
